

516-240-2400
www.summitsecurity.com

In collaboration,
the New York City Police Department,
Columbia University, Fordham University and Summit Security invites you to a professional public-service conference where leading experts will discuss solutions for Campus Safety and Security.
Please, invited guests only,
no fee for attendance.

Vincent J. Bove
Moderator
Summit Security Services

Mr. Bove is a nationally acclaimed expert and presenter on 'American School Violence: Prevention and Community Partnership Responses.' A board-certified crime prevention specialist, Mr. Bove has trained NYPD officers, serves on the boards of many crime prevention associations, and has presented to more than 10,000 educators, corporate professionals and law enforcement officials throughout the country.

Speakers

John F. Carroll
Director of Security
Fordham University, New York City

Mr. Carroll has overseen Fordham's campus security since 1992, directing a security force of more than 200 officers on an 85-acre campus in the Bronx as well as the Lincoln Center facility with 15,000 students. A former Commanding Officer of the 41st Precinct in the Bronx, Mr. Carroll served on the NYPD for 29 years.

George D. Smartt
Assistant Vice President of Security and Safety,
Columbia University, New York City

Mr. Smartt became responsible for Columbia University's campus security in 1985 and currently oversees a 350-person security staff. Columbia's student's number 22,000, and the main campus has 71 buildings across 35 acres. Prior to this position, Mr. Smartt served on the NYPD for 21 years.

Nicholas Estavillo
Chief of Patrol
New York City Police Department

Chief Estavillo oversees the NYPD's seven patrol borough commands, as well as the Special Operations Division and Division of School Safety. A 33-year NYPD veteran, Chief Estavillo served as Commanding Officer of the 34th Precinct, the 5th Division and Patrol Borough Manhattan North.

Campus Safety and Security Conference

Safety and security are on everyone's mind. And campus security has taken on new meaning as school violence has reached staggering proportions throughout America. Each community is a potential victim. Never before have school security officials been called on so loudly to step up safety measures.

Today's conference will explore the experiences and views of leading experts in campus security. These leading experts will each discuss aspects and solutions in their environments, and will then take questions as a panel afterwards.

Tuesday, August 13, 2002
9:00 AM - 11:45 AM
Including continental breakfast

Fordham University,
Lincoln Center Campus,
113 West 60th Street, NYC
Lowenstein Building
12th Floor Lounge

RSVP By August 5, 2002
Please call Tony Triolo at 516-240-2400
to confirm your attendance.

Important: Invitees not able to attend may contact Mr. Triolo to arrange for a substitute representative.